Life

Forenoon and afternoon and night,—Forenoon,
And afternoon, and night,—Forenoon, and—what!
The empty song repeats itself. No More?
Yea, that is life: make this forenoon sublime,
This afternoon a psalm, this night a prayer,
And Time is conquered, and thy crown is won.

To

Vivian E. Robe

our faithful, enthusiastic,
helpful
class adviser,
we,
the Senior Class,
do hereby dedicate
in grateful appreciation
the
1928 Chinook

Dear Blanche:-
You have been one of my biggest inspirations all year. You are a splendid accompanist, a real friend, and lots of fun. Please don't forget to come back, bringing your smile and good nature again, which helps so much this year.
"Robie"

The Chancellor's Message

One of America's greatest teachers wrote this short specification of "The Ideal Teacher"—"He is one who is ready to be forgotten." An analysis of this specification is commended both to my young and old associates in education. To me, the specification—"readiness to be forgotten," does not seem, at first blush, to harmonize with that important educational mandate—"In your educational work strive to win the approval of those who are discriminating and high-minded." Why strive to win approval if you are ready to be forgotten? The reward seems inadequate, and the relationship between the specification and the mandate is vague and seemingly non-existent. However, a careful examination of the specification "ready to be forgotten,"—and the mandate—"strive to win high approval" makes clear that a causal relationship really exists. "Readiness to be forgotten" is an attitude of mind which is developed only by sacrifice of self for truth and the welfare of others; and sacrificial living wins, sooner or later, the approval of all the noblemen whose high standards we endeavor to achieve.

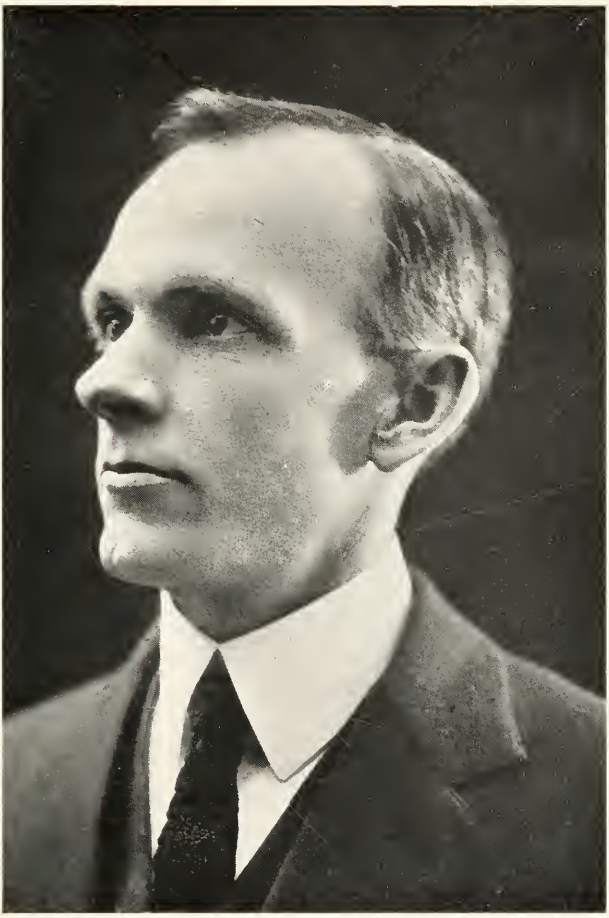
This greeting is not a preachment. It is a challenge to all who enter the high profession of teaching. Endeavor mightily to become "Ideal Teachers." They alone can improve and save our civilization. H. G. Wells declares that the continuity of civilization will be determined by the race now on between education and catastrophe.

Melvin A. Brannon

The President's Message

The Chinook brings its annual message. It speaks eloquently for the worthy class of 1928. It knows their language now, and it will use its 1928 vocabulary and spirit in after years, when members of the class consider themselves grown-up, wise,—even old. May the spirit of 1928 come back every time a Chinook is opened. May the hardy, cheerful courage which has made the book a success go with every member of the class always.

Sheldon E. Davis



The Dean's Message

And let your best be for your friend.

If he must know the ebb of your tide, let him know its flood also.

For what is your friend that you should seek him with hours to kill?

Seek him always with hours to live.

For it is his to fill your need, but not your emptiness.

And in the sweetness of friendship let there be laughter, and sharing of pleasures.

For in the dew of little things the heart finds its morning and is refreshed.—Gibran.

Angeline Smith

The College Song

Thy towers stretching upward
Guide us on our way;
Thy green lawns rolling outward
Hold us throughout the day.
Each memory brings a thrill
Of golden days upon the hill.
In Montana's fairest valley,
Where our hearts must always rally.

Normal College, here's to you,
For to you we'll all be true.
Though we're far away at work or play
We shall keep our colors flying still for you.
So onward through the years let's go,
And no one dares to tell us no,
For we're bringing to fame, that dear old name—
Normal College, here's to you.

Seniors

Anxious to bring back that feeling of being organized, the Seniors of 1928 elected their officers in the early part of September. Knowing the responsibility of sponsoring the Chinook, the class immediately elected its associate members for the Chinook staff. All tasks and duties were assumed with enthusiasm. Stunts, assembly programs, and athletic teams made obvious the talent and skill of the class. Throughout the entire year the Seniors took active part in all school affairs.

JUNIORS

Juniors

During the month of September, 1927, the Junior class was organized. The initiative of the Juniors was displayed throughout the year. They brought forth much of the talent of the school as was shown in their Assembly program, Hallowe'en stunt, and the Pantages act in the Carnival. With the ability it has shown, the class of '29 will be successful in continuing its work next year.

The College Sing

The College Sing is another one of the many impressive activities of commencement week. Both classes group together on the College steps to sing the most popular Assembly songs and sometimes the songs featured in and popularized by the operetta. For the last time during the year the students sing the song which will linger longest in the memories of all:

Normal College, Here's to You!

The Pow Wow

During the last week of the spring quarter the warriors of the Junior and Senior tribes don their feathers and war paint in preparation for a final conflict. Like all combats, this is a struggle for supremacy. The Juniors send one of their tribesmen to declare war on the Seniors, whom they believe to have grown too old to perform the duties of their respective positions. The old group contend that the length of time they have lived here entitles them to full possession of the territory.

After a lengthy discourse upon the subject of right and justice, the Seniors are convinced that the Juniors, by reason of their age, are better fitted to carry on the work of the institution. Through this ceremony the rights and privileges of the upper classmen are surrendered to the younger members of the school, who promise to faithfully uphold the good name and ideals of the College during the coming year.

In true Indian style the tribes mingle together to smoke the pipe of peace and dance around the campfire. The Pow Wow is the ceremonial dedication of upper class power by the Seniors to those who are next in line for graduation at M. S. N. C.

The "Go"

September 21, the annual "Go" day, was a red-letter day at M. S. N. C. Faculty and weather man co-operated in giving us a glorious holiday. Hiking clothes were donned early in the day, and the road to Dillmont Park was thronged with students on their way to the traditional picnic grounds.

An impromptu baseball diamond was laid out in front of the pavilion, and a most exciting game in which many participated was played. Otto Sassman as fielder caught many a fly but no baseballs. The football game attracted devotees of that sport, also.

Music for an informal dance at the pavilion was furnished by several of the students. Mr. Cluley and his daughter, Betty Jean, chaperoned the party.

Meanwhile preparations for the great event of the day—LUNCH—were being made. Those who labored carrying wood and water were materially assisted and cheered in their efforts by the kind and continual instructions of the faculty. After MUCH HELP from the students, Mr. Jordan and Mr. Albright succeeded in building a fire and making coffee.

No urging was necessary when the culinary forces at last sent out the call "Come and get it, or we'll throw it out!" Never was such a long and vociferous bread-line! Heaping plates were given out by Dean Smith and her corps of helpers. The students at M. S. N. C. were not suffering from loss of appetite, if one were to judge from the number who came back in true dormitory style for "seconds."

Since "Go" day is the traditional get-acquainted mixer of the year at Montana State Normal College, it is held shortly after the beginning of each fall quarter. On that day faculty and seniors discard their usual sober mien and devote themselves to welcoming the new students to the College.

The Hallowe'en Party

The annual Hallowe'en party was given this year on October 29. Novel stunts by campus organizations furnished the varied program at the College auditorium. The program follows:

K. Z. N. STUNT—Massa's in de Cold, Cold Ground.

Mary Thomas, Vivian Eastridge, Betty Williams, Margaret Anderson, Bertha Quinlan.

W. A. A. STUNT—Barn Dance.

Gretchen Gayhart.....Mouth Organ
Alyce Hines .....Calls
LaFrances McCoy, Wilma Kimball, Eleanor Jaquette, Lois Coleman, Elizabeth Sanderson, Helen Swanson, Frances Lee, Lois Wagner, Mary McIsaac, Patricia Vegas, Louise Luding.

JUNIOR CLASS—Romeo and Juliet.

SENIOR CLASS—Side by Side.

Helen M. Harkins, Mayme Marzetta, Marian Keane, Dorothy Tway, Martha Sallee, Emogene Mallette.

GLEE CLUB—A Japanese Love Song.

Gretchen Gayhart .....Chinaman
Blanche Guillot.....Japanese Girl
Thelma Holliday .....
.....Poor Butterfly (Solo)
Members of the Glee Club.

GARGOYLES—Two Black Crows at Normal.

Florence Ring and Lorne Lauder.

Y. W. C. A.—The Ghostly Jamboree.

Dorrit Scott .....Head Spook
Jane Fabrick, Marian Benedict, Dorothy Collins, Elene Cassidy .....Ghosts
Eddabeth Fisher, Patricia Vegas, Dorothy Lloyd, Alice Lillie ..... Witches
Dorothy Kelley, Blanche Guillot, Helen Scallon, Dorothy Voerge, Dorothea Grill, Frances Lee ..... Sneaks

Edith Tweedy as master of ceremonies announced the different stunts. At the conclusion of the program at the auditorium everyone went by way of the laundry room door to the "Rec" hall where the annual Hallowe'en dance was in progress. The way led through the Chamber of Horrors where ghosts walked, wild women shrieked, and pitfalls beset the path of the unwary.

"M" Day

"M" Day is the birthday of the great white "M," which is the symbol of the Montana University. On this day—sometime during the month of May—the "M" receives another coat of paint, and all its dimensions are increased by one foot. An onlooker (if there be any such) upon this scene of industry, has the opportunity to observe a direct and useful application of the habit of standing in line, acquired on registration days. A line of students arranges itself between the corner of the "M" and a pile of rocks. Instead of being carried one by one the rocks are passed down this line. Thus as the "M" grows older, it also grows larger. When all the additional rocks are placed, the Seniors apply the new coat of white wash with brooms,—the kind which the good people of Dillon cultivate in their back yards.

During the course of this process Dean Smith and the dormitory kitchen force have been preparing lunch in the valley below for the hungry "500." When the group has eaten, then rested for a time and perhaps indulged in a few games of baseball, the eastward march begins. Everyone returns home thoroughly satisfied and in most cases thoroughly sunburned.

The May Fete

The May Fete is a spring festival given on the campus in honor of the May Queen. The Queen and her attendants are elected by the student body. They are chosen on the basis of their popularity and their worthy achievements at the Normal. Roseanne Smith of Boulder had the distinction of being May Queen in the spring of 1927.

The participants are the pupils of the training school and a number of College students who are enrolled in certain physical education classes. Through dancing and dramatization they interpret a story to their audience.

For the past two years this activity has been directed by Miss Helen Mae Smith.

The Candle-Light Procession

Have you memories of a swift-falling twilight in early summer, when the dark mantle of night blots out the familiar shrubbery of the College campus? The well-known towers of the main building are silhouetted against the darkened sky; lights twinkle along the well-loved walks; the dormitory windows show bright in the warm, scented summer evening. All nature is hushed. Even the sleepy robins, so noisy in the early twilight hours, are still at last. Into this expectant calm comes the sound of voices, clear and sweet:

"Oh, college chums, dear college chums, the years may come, the years may go;
But still my heart in memory clings to those college days of long ago."

The Seniors, in cap and gown, march slowly down the darkened walks, each one carrying a lighted candle. As the long line meets the line of Juniors at the entrance to the campus, the candles are handed to a Junior.

"Through youth, through prime, and when the days of harvest time to us shall come;
Through all we'll bear those memories dear of those college days of long ago."

The lines pass. Twinkling points of light mark the path taken by the Juniors, as they bear the lighted candles across the campus. The song dies down.

The Residence Halls have an executive body called the House Council. This body was organized in order that each floor in the three dormitories might be represented. Two girls from each floor are elected as representatives. The Council meets to plan the social calendar and to discuss the special problems met by the girls who live in the Residence Halls. The most prominent affair on the social calendar this year was the colonial ball given February 11, the most striking feature being the minuet danced by sixteen couples.

The House Council is the one and only governing body in the Residence Halls, and it has tried to fulfill its duties by providing social activities for the men and women of the College.

Student Activity Fund Committee

Three years ago the student activity fund came into existence. It is made up of the two-dollar fee paid by each student every quarter. A committee of the faculty, senior and junior classes apportions this money among the student activities, the Montanomal, and the lyceum course. President Davis appoints three faculty members, and three representatives are elected from each class.

Mr. McBain was chairman of the committee this year. The other faculty committee members were Dean Smith and Miss Russell. The Senior representatives were Garry Robertson, Bertha Quinlan, and Martha Allen; and the Junior representatives were Rosemary King, Helen Lou Davis, and Carl Baldwin.

The Y. W. C. A., an organization whose aim is to create a good fellowship among the women of the Normal College, has been very active this year. The social activities of the Y. W. C. A. consisted of a treasure hunt, stunt night, a Pantages act for the Carnival, and a Hallowe'en stunt. Running to and fro at the football games were Y. W. girls selling hot-dogs as fast as they were made. At the meetings several of the faculty members gave talks to the girls. They also had the pleasure of having Miss Stella Scurlock, national secretary, visit them.

The Kappa Zeta Nu sorority was organized twenty-three years ago for the purpose of promoting social activities and sisterhood among the students of the Montana State Normal College. Since its organization it has taken part in all school activities of a social nature.

Each quarter new members are pledged. A candidate must have completed two successful quarters of work at M. S. N. C. before she can be pledged. This year over fifty members were pledged to this society. In the winter quarter a new constitution for the organization was written.

The social part of the society consisted of breakfasts for the members, marshmallow roasts, firesides, and formal dances in the fall and spring quarters to conclude the initiation of the pledges.

One of the youngest organizations on the campus, but one of the most active, is the W. A. A. It became nationalized last year, the only organization on the campus so honored. This year the W. A. A. took a very active part in promoting good sportsmanship in athletics. A new constitution was written by a committee appointed by the president.

In order to become a member of the organization a student must have completed one successful quarter at M. S. N. C. She must have earned ninety points by hiking and ten other points by some athletic activity, or by making a first team for which one hundred points are given, or a second team for which fifty points are given. A felt monogram is awarded when a student receives five hundred points, two hundred of which have been made by teams. A chenille "M" is given when she has earned eight hundred points, four hundred of which are made by teams. Nearly seventy-five new members were initiated this year.

The social activities of the W. A. A. were the Mixer, the W. A. A. Get-together, the initiation, and the banquet.

The Chanticleer Club

Who's crowing all the most up to date news? Why, the Chanticleers, of course! Have you heard of the newest organization on the campus?

In order to fulfill the long-felt need of a club for the purpose of promoting interest in journalism, the Montanomal staff organized the Chanticleer Club. The first meeting was held on Monday, January 9. The club plans to have many social functions as well as programs of a literary nature.

Miss Albertson is faculty adviser. The officers are:

The Gargoyles, the dramatic society of Montana State Normal College, was organized in 1922 for the purpose of furthering dramatic activities in the school. Any student who is interested in dramatic work may be elected to membership, if he has proved his ability in one or more of the three departments of the club, business, stage, or acting.

A new feature of the club this year is the honor society, The Order of the Jewelled Mask. Only those members who have completed a certain amount of work, after election to membership of the Gargoyles, are eligible for election to this honorary order.

Besides the public performances given throughout the year by the Gargoyles, dramatic activity has been stimulated by the informal presentation of numerous "laboratory plays" at regular club meetings. From the proceeds of plays given for the public, it has been possible to add to the stage equipment a row of X-ray border lights, dimmers, a set of screens, and many smaller properties.

The club has a room which it is furnishing with furniture that may be used on the stage.

The try-out committee is elected by the club for the purpose of preparing and giving try-outs for membership. The chairmen of the business department were LeRoy Emerson and Helen Lou Davis; stage department, Florence Ring and Charles Davis; and acting, Martha Allen.

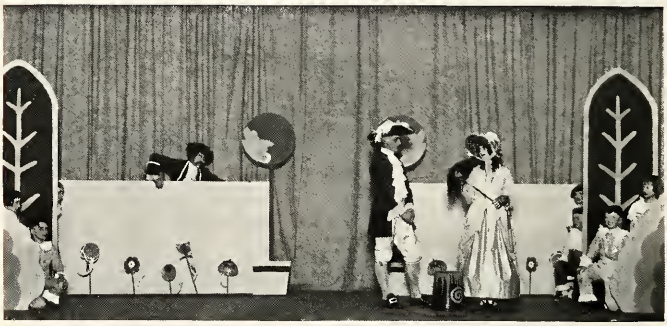
The Patsy

The Patsy, a three-act comedy by Barry Conners, was presented on the evening of December 9. This play was a double love story; the competition of two sisters, the actions of one countenanced by her mother, and those of the other by her father, carried out the idea of rivalry. The characters, who were all Gargoyle members, were very successful in carrying out their parts.

Cast

Mrs. Harrington, Martha Allen; Mr. Harrington, Esmond Riberdy; Patricia Harrington, Martha Sallee; Grace Harrington, Bertha Quinlan; Billy Caldwell, Charles Davis; Tony Anderson, LeRoy Emerson.

Directed by Miss Sands



The Lady Loses Her Hoop, a rhythmic playlet, was presented by the Gargoyles for the Booster Club Carnival. Conventional scenery made by club members carried out the idea of the play.

Cast

Heroine, Esther Lovell; Hero, Lloyd Gass; Villain, Lorne Lander; Children.

Directed by Miss Sands

Rich Man, Poor Man, a one-act comedy by Bertha Y. Burrill, was presented on February 10.

WALLACE SCOTT ..... President
DAVID MURRAY ..... Vice-President
LeROY EMERSON ..... Secretary-Treasurer

The "M" Club was first organized in the fall quarter of 1925 when M. S. N. C. began to take an active part in intercollegiate athletics. Its membership is composed of men who have earned their letters in one of the major sports. Coach Moe has supervised the athletics this year. The aim of the club is to promote athletics. The interest of the students in athletics proved that the club's aim was fulfilled.

There were several dances given by the "M" Club throughout the year. They were well attended. The "M" Club presented a Pantags act, difficult to surpass, at the Booster Club Carnival.

Through the careful management of the athletic program, which was under the supervision of Guy Lester and Wallace Scott, the club was financially a success. Sweaters were awarded to the football and basketball players.

The year of 1928 was a marked success for the "M" Club. With most of its present members returning next year, the advancement of athletics is certain.

Chinook

In the year 1903 the first school annual, the Chinook, appeared. It is sponsored by the Senior class. Everyone considers the Chinook his most valuable possession because it takes in all the memories of the happy days spent at M. S. N. C.

The Chinook staff was elected in the spring quarter of 1927. The associate members were elected during the fall quarter. The art editor contest was won by Phoebe Parslow, whose work was considered excellent. The meetings of the staff were held every other Monday night during the fall and winter quarters. Several Chinook drives were held each quarter, to which the students responded readily.

The Montanomal

January 6, 1923, the first issue of the Montanomal, the student paper of the Normal College, was published. Since then several changes and improvements have been made. The staff of 1927-1928 has contributed its sbare to the development of the paper.

The Montanomal is under the supervision of Miss Albertson, faculty adviser and instructor in journalism. It is a paper of which the College may well be proud. A two credit course in journalism, which is now given, has resulted in a better written paper.

Besides the weekly issues of the paper, a Carnival number was put out by the Montanomal staff and the Chanticleers.

Debate

The debaters of 1927-1928 upheld the record established by their predecessors for the past two years. Two decision debates were held, both of them ending in victory for the Normal College. The third and last debate was an open forum debate with the sophomore team of the Montana State College at Bozeman. The affirmative team debated twice here, and the negative team debated once in Billings.

The question for debate this year, a topic which is being earnestly discussed throughout the United States at this time, was, Resolved: That, the United States should cease its policy of protecting, by armed force, capital invested in foreign lands except after formal declaration of war.

The first debate of the season, and the first one ever held between the Eastern Montana Normal School and the Montana State Normal College, resulted in a 2-1 decision in favor of the Dillon debaters. The Normal College was represented by its negative team consisting of Helen A. Harkin of Belfry and Inola Watson of Butte.

Margene Sunderland of Helena, Blanche Woods of Butte, and Margaret Anderson of Belfry, upholders of the affirmative, won a 3-0 decision over the State School of Mines team.

The final debate in which the affirmative team, consisting of Lillian Barrett of Great Falls, Blanche Woods of Butte, and Margaret Anderson of Belfry, met the sophomores of the State College of Bozeman, was a no-decision debate.

Much credit is due Mr. Albright who has so successfully coached the debaters for the past three years.

The Normal College Index

The Normal College Index, which is published by the journalism class once each month, is sent to Montana teachers. It is the professional publication of the Normal College and is under the direction of Miss Albertson.

As it is the purpose of the Index to help teachers in their work, each issue is specialized; social science, rural school, primary, intermediate, upper grade, English, and high school numbers have been issued this year. Index articles are written by the journalism staff, the faculty, and alumni. Normal students receive a copy each month.

The Alumni Association

In June, 1927, the local alumni of the Montana State Normal College held its annual picnic on the Olmsted lawn. Eighteen regular members, eight visiting graduates who were home for the summer, and four members of the class of 1927 were present.

It has been the custom for the last three years to have no alumni banquet but to add the one dollar banquet fee to the alumni loan fund. Fees totaling fifteen dollars were turned in on that day.

1927 Football Season

Montana State Normal College opened its fourth annual intercollegiate football season with only three of the 1926 men back in the line-up; Wallace Scott, "Dub" Emerson, and Ambrose Henneberry.

Coach O. K. Moe called an early meeting of prospective football men, and the season's practice was soon under way. A new line was built, a back field selected and trained, for a very hard season's schedule lay ahead of the Bulldogs. Twenty men reported, and Coach Moe began the practice of the fundamentals.

The line centered about Esmond Riberdy of University "Frosh" fame and the back field around Captain-elect "Chuck" Davis, a member of Butte's 1924 championship team. Riberdy was flanked by a few experienced men, but for the most part the line was in need of the fundamentals. Leonard Nelson and Carl Baldwin each gained a regular position on the wings. Lightfoot of Whitehall and Murray of Bear Creek established themselves as guards. Watts, G. Gass and L. Gass, Dunn, and Kerr worked as tackles. In the back field with Davis at fullback, Emerson at quarter, Fowell, Mosier, Scott, and Henneberry at halves, the combination was complete. Other men on the team deserving much credit were Knudson, Hollingsworth, Robertson, Lang, Moore, Moyer and Wyatt. Guy Lester served for the season as Bulldog manager.

The epidemic of smallpox which visited the Normal campus early in the season kept five valuable men out of practice for three weeks and left the team working under a handicap which greatly hindered its getting into the season's form.

Lightfoot sustained a fractured shoulder in a scrimmage against the Dillon high school, and his absence was greatly felt in the last game of the season against Intermountain Union College.

Playing a hard schedule, suffering from the "Jinx" of injury and the breaks of the game, the Bulldogs fought their way through a season without a single victory. Yet, we must give them due credit for the manner in which they played the game. Here and there the games were illuminated by flashes of brilliant team-play and sacrifice upon the part of the men. The outlook for a better 1928 team under Coach Moe tends to be a reality as many of the strongest men will again be with the Bulldogs in the coming season. Fourteen men won the "M."

Butte School of Mines	20
Normal	0

October 1, 1927.

The first Bulldog defeat came at the hands of the "Ore-diggers" from the Butte School of Mines. This game drew the largest crowd of the season on the home field. The Normal eleven was forced to play a defensive game throughout, and here the line was tested under fire. In comparison the line played well against the heavier and more experienced Miners. Doheney led the victors. Here the "Jinx" first asserted itself against the Teachers. Davis, Bulldog fullback, sustained a wrenched neck, and "Dub" Emerson, quarterback, was taken from the game, injured. Weak points in defense, offense, and the execution of plays were apparent, but these were corrected before the game with Weber College, which followed.

Weber College, Utah	19
Normal	6

October 22, 1927.

The Normal eleven entered the Weber game with a much improved line. Weber failed to gain a great deal of yardage through it and was forced to resort to end runs and deceptive plays. Weber's first score came when Mosier, left half, fumbled when tackled on a wide end run. The play was not covered well, and a Weber back scooped up the ball for a fifteen yard run and a touchdown. Weber scored its second touchdown on a fake play on the out-of-bounds rule. The play failed to work a second time. The third tally came by straight football through the Bulldog line in a moment of weakness; the victors were successful in a try-for-goal once out of the three times attempted. For three quarters the Weber line withstood the attack of the Teachers, but in the final period it weakened, and at the close of the game the Normal eleven was on a march toward the Weber goal. The single score for the Bulldogs came when Fowell, replacing Mosier at left half, recovered an advanced fumbled punt and raced twenty yards for a touchdown. The "Jinx" again; and Emerson, after a brave fight, was removed on account of injuries.

Mount Saint Charles	153

October 28, 1927.

The trip to Helena was made by automobile, and the Bulldogs were completely overwhelmed by what is conceded as Montana's best 1927 college team which was much heavier and faster than the Normal eleven, and throughout the game tore the Bulldog line to pieces and smothered plays in the back field before they were well under way. However, the men met the situation like true sports and prepared for the big game with Rexburg.

Ricks College	18
Normal	6

November 5, 1927.

What should have been a victory was reversed into defeat when the Bulldogs failed to realize their power in the air against Ricks. The teams were evenly matched, with the Normal excelling in passes. Ricks scored first on a fumbled punt on the five yard line. According to the new rules it should have been their ball at the point of recovery. Ricks scored their second touchdown by an end run from punt formation. Captain Lindquist completed the total in the third quarter, none of the extra points being converted. The third quarter was scoreless, and both teams resorted to punting for protection. "Chuck" Davis in the final quarter gave as pretty an exhibition as has ever been seen on the local field when he took the ball almost the length of the field by the forward pass route and then tore through the Ricks line for a touchdown. Davis, Riberdy, and Scott starred for the Bulldogs.

Intermountain Union College	12
Normal	6

November 12, 1927.

On account of bad weather and roads the Bulldogs had to travel by rail to Helena to play their game with Intermountain. The game was played on an ice-bound field which proved the undoing for the scoring machine of the Bulldogs. In this game the line had suffered the loss of Lightfoot at guard position, and Kerr at tackle. Watts was suffering with a badly bruised shoulder and was taken from the game in the first half. The first score came when an Intermountain back returned a punt and placed the ball within scoring distance. Snow crashed through center but missed the try-for-goal. The second touchdown was gained by means of the forward pass after an Intermountain march of twenty-five yards. The Bulldogs' only marker came after an offensive drive which placed the pigskin on Intermountain's twenty yard line, and Davis passed to Emerson who had neatly evaded the Intermountain backs. Throughout this period the Normal eleven outplayed the opponents in both offense and defense. Emerson again suffered injuries and was forced out of the play. In the closing minutes of play Davis intercepted a long pass and raced off for what seemed to be the lucky break. But the ice-bound field crushed the hopes of the team mates as "Chuck" slipped, in reversing the field, and slid out of bounds.

1928 Basketball Season

Normal	8
Ricks College	45

January 6, 1928.

In the first game of the 1928 basketball season the Bulldogs went down to defeat before the fast Ricks College five. The Normal squad played hard but was unable to cope with the more experienced team from Idaho.

The game started fast from the tip-off, and Ricks counted on the first play. Murray came back with a foul shot, and a few seconds later sank a neat basket from the corner. This placed the Bulldogs in the lead for a time, but the Ricks team found their stride and worked like a machine for the rest of the half. The half ended 32-3 in favor of Ricks.

The Bulldogs came back in the second half to hold the visitors to 13 points while counting 5 for themselves. The Normal's defense proved a problem for the Idaho men. The fight with which the Bulldogs came back in the second half of a losing game was for the loyal boosters some consolation.

Normal	24
Mines	30

January 14, 1928.

An improved Normal five played the Miners a 30-24 tilt. The game was fast and rough and as a result many fouls were made, and two men were removed from the game.

The giant Matlock at guard position was a pillar of strength in the Mines' defense, and Kelly, the fast little forward, was high point man for his team with ten points. Lang starred for the Normal with ten points. Fowell and G. Gass gave a clever exhibition of guarding for the Bulldogs while Murray and Taylor showed up well on the floor work.

Montana State College..... 81
Normal 23

January 18, 1928.

The Montana State College "Bobcats" gave the fans of Dillon as fine an exhibition of basketball technique as has ever been seen on the home floor when they played the Bulldogs here on January 18. "Ott" Romney started his first team, and at the end of the first half they had counted 56 against the Normal's 12. In the second half the second team rolled up 25 more points. Both teams showed excellent team work. The Bulldogs were kept to long shots by the guarding of their famous visitors. Lang was by far the star of the Bulldog team. Fowell worked well at guard, and Taylor, Murray, and Robertson played real basketball for the Normal.

The students of Montana State College and the people of Montana are proud of the great Bobcat team which has dominated basketball for the past two years. We are proud of them, proud of their sportsmanship, their style, and the manner in which they play the game. They have brought glory to Montana sports and given the Universities, Colleges, and Schools of Montana something of which to be proud.

Southern Branch University of Idaho..... 26
Normal 25

January 26, 1928.

The first game, played with the University of Idaho, Southern Branch, was dropped by a one-point margin. The game was exceedingly close throughout, and the winner was in doubt until the final gun. Lang was high point man for the Normal with eight points to his credit. Taylor was second high point man with six.

Weber College 34
Normal 26

January 27, 1928.

In the game with Weber College, Utah, the Bulldogs put up a good battle and lost only through the greater height and superior playing of the Weber center. The Normal obtained an early lead and kept it until the end of the first quarter. In the second period the Weber team ran up a lead of eight points. During the latter part of the game the teams battled on even terms, each team scoring eleven points.

Lang and Taylor divided honors in this game; both scored eight points. The Bulldogs were especially impressed with the sportsmanlike treatment they received from the Weber team while in Ogden.

Ricks College	44
Normal	16

January 28, 1928.

Weakened by their long and strenuous trip, the Bulldogs were routed by the fast Ricks College team at Rexburg, Idaho. The Normalites put up a good fight but were simply unable to cope with the more experienced and larger team from Rexburg. The loss of Taylor and Davis from the game by injuries was another factor in the defeat. Taylor came through in this game with six points, and Robertson with five.

Southern Branch University of Idaho	26
Normal	23

February 2, 1928.

The Bulldogs started their return game with the Tigers from Idaho a bit over-confident, and with revenge in their hearts for the one-point defeat of a week before. The game was very slow. Not until Lang and Murray started a rally in the last few minutes of the first half did the Normal players find their stride and start to play real basketball. This spurt of team work and shooting placed the Bulldogs in the lead for the half.

In the second half the visitors came from behind and equalled the score, then took the lead. The rally, which started the Normalites on what seemed a victory in the first half, failed to be repeated in the last period. The Tigers believed in the old adage, "Possession is nine-tenths of the law," for they played a stalling type of game most of the time. In the last few seconds, the Tigers crushed the hopes of the fans by dropping in a basket or two, through clever team work, and cinched the score to center. Fowell played a good consistent game at guard, and Lang played the usual shifty, clever game at forward but with much tough luck.

In the game Taylor was shifted to forward and Murray

Mines	40
Normal College	18

February 16, 1928.

The Bulldogs of Montana State Normal College lost their return game with the Butte School of Mines to the tune of 40-18. The game was played at Butte.

The Miners started fast in the first few minutes for an 8-1 lead and then hit a surprising slump while the Bulldogs climbed to the short end of a 9-7 score. The Miners led by 13-7 at the end of the first half. In the second half the Miners scored 16 points before the visitors could score a point. Four more baskets, for a 28-point lead at 37-8, gave the Miners' reserves a chance to get into action. From then on the Bulldogs had the edge, and the play was rough.

Tim Dennehy set the pace for the Miners with eighteen points, and Kelly followed with eleven points. Lang held scoring honors for the Normal team with ten points to his credit.

Montana State Normal	45
Eastern Montana Normal	10

February 23, 1928.

The Montana State Normal Bulldogs closed their season with a victory when they defeated the Eastern Montana Normal quint with a score of 45-10. The Jinx that had pursued the Bulldogs throughout the year failed to visit the Normal gym, and the Bulldogs had their day.

The game was fast throughout, and the score by no means indicates the fight put up by the visitors. During the first period the Bulldogs were unable to hit the basket. At last Lang found his shooting eye, and assisted by Murray and Robertson, succeeded in rolling up a score of 23-6 at the half.

Lang was distinctly the star of the evening. He rolled in baskets from every angle of the floor to give himself a total of twenty-six points at the final whistle. Foot starred for Billings with six points.

1927 Track Season

What proved to be M. S. N. C.'s greatest track season began when Coach Bruce Hollister issued his call for track men early in the spring of 1927. With only two experienced men on the squad he built up a track team worthy of the name.

Taylor, veteran of 1926, and the Normal's high point man, was the nucleus upon which the team was built. In the Mines' meet he ran up 24 points. Miller proved to be the best distance runner produced by the school. Thompson and Scott were point-getters in the dashes, each capturing 12 points.

The climax of the 1927 track season was the dual meet with the Butte School of Mines, May 20 and 21. The meet was held in Dillon on a rain-soaked field, but the Bulldogs came through and held the Miners down to one first place, Wells winning the half-mile.

Some good records were made in spite of the stormy weather and slow track. Snow and rain fell during the entire meet. Wells was star for the Butte squad and Taylor and Miller for the Teachers.

Following are the events, the Mines men being indicated:

220-yard dash—Miller, first; Scott, second. Time—:26.3.

880-yard run—Wells (Mines), first; Eggebrecht, second. Time—2:22.

Javelin throw—Taylor, first; Wells (Mines), second. Distance—117 ft. 6 in.

Mile run—Brown, first; Wells (Mines), second. Time—5:38.

High hurdles—Taylor, first; Robertson, second. Time—:19.4.

Relay—Won by Normal team, consisting of Scott, Eggebrecht, Thompson, and Miller. Time—4:20.

High jump—Taylor, first; Roy (Mines), second. Height—5 ft. 6 in.

100-yard dash—Scott, first; Thompson, second. Time—:10⅘.

Broad jump—McDermond, first; Brown, second. Distance—18 ft. 6 in.

Low hurdles—Taylor, first; McDermond, second. Time—:32.

Discus throw—Riberdy, first; Taylor, second. Distance—103 ft. 10 in.

440-yard dash—Miller, first; Denehy (Mines), second. Time—:60.

In the cross country run held the next day, 40 points were made by the Normal and 15 by the Mines. The Normal took the first four places. Miller was first, his time being 15 minutes and 56 seconds, which was one minute slower than his previous record. Twenty men started and the first ten to finish placed as follows: Miller, Normal, first; Eggebrecht, Normal, second; Brown, Normal, third; Murray, Normal, fourth; Boyce, Mines, fifth; Wells, Mines, sixth; Kimball, Normal, seventh; Healy, Mines, eighth; Taylor, Normal, ninth; Mayo, Mines, tenth.

Montana State Normal College made 87 points to the Mines' 22 in this dual meet.

Swimming

The swimming meet has been changed from the fall quarter to the spring quarter in order to make it possible for Juniors who do not know how to swim when they enter the Normal to try out for the team. It is hoped that with this change the Juniors will participate to such an extent that the College may have a swimming tournament that will be as successful as the one held the fall quarter of 1926.

Moderate Sports

A Moderate Sports class was introduced in the winter quarter, and the games played were horse shoes, handball, shuffle-board, Philadelphia kick ball, and German bat ball. An elimination tournament was held in horse shoes, handball, and shuffle-board, and the winners and runners-up received twenty-five W. A. A. points. Color teams were chosen in Philadelphia kick ball and German bat ball. Each one who played in either game received twenty-five points for W. A. A.

Tennis

One of the popular spring sports at Montana State Normal College is tennis, a game which is usually new to many students. Regardless of their inexperience, many good players are developed for tennis teams. A class elimination tournament was held last spring with Ruth Bergquist winning for the Juniors and Hope Carter for the Seniors. The Junior-Senior singles final was an evenly matched game. The first set 6-3 was an easy victory for the Junior player, and the second was a hard fought deuce set which ended 9-7, also in favor of the Junior. Thus Ruth Bergquist won the tennis championship for herself and her class.

Volley Ball

Volley ball occupied its usual prominent place in women's athletics. Before the inter-class tournament, an inter-dormitory tournament was held. This gave every girl who desired to play a chance to take part. "Middle" won the tournament. In the inter-class tournament the Seniors won two of the three games in the series from the Juniors who, as usual, put up a hard fight for the championship.

The first game, which the Seniors won 2-0, was by far the easiest of the series. The loss of the first game seemed to put more fight into the Junior team, and they defeated the Seniors in the second game 2-1. The final game proved to be the most difficult, for the Seniors had to fight coutinually to defeat the enthusiastic Junior team 2-1. Both teams fought hard, and the crowd was kept in suspense until the final whistle which declared the Senior team champions in 1927 volley ball.

Baseball

Among the women at the Normal College in 1927 were many enthusiastic baseball players. Practices were held in the gymnasium until there was favorable weather. Near the middle of the season a baseball team was chosen which played the training school team. For several years the Normal team had been defeated, but this year they had luck and downed the training school girls in two successive games.

During the Junior-Senior tournament the Juniors fought hard but were unable to defeat the sturdy Senior team which won the championship by taking two games from the Juniors.

Senior and Junior Basketball Teams

Women's Basketball

Basketball is the most exciting sport of the whole year because the Normal College has so many expert players. This year an inter-dormitory tournament with six teams represented was held with the team from third floor "New" victorious. Class teams were chosen near the end of the winter quarter, and the first inter-class game was played as a preliminary to the boys' game with the Eastern Montana Normal School. The teams were evenly matched, and it was anyone's game until the final whistle blew, declaring the Seniors winners 18-17. The second game was a walkaway for the Juniors, 24-13. The third game proved to be a repetition of the first game and ended 15-15. During the extra three-minute period of play the Juniors sank their winning basket, taking the game 17-15 and so winning the basketball championship.

The Junior second team defeated the Senior second team in two games, thereby winning the second team championship.

Elizabeth Sanderson	Helen Kilburn
Maybelle Strunk	Imogene Welch
Margaret Johnson	Laura North
Elizabeth Williams	Evelyn LaCasse

Hockey

Hockey made its first appearance at M. S. N. C. in 1927. Since it was a new sport for all, the Juniors had the same opportunity to develop a winning team as the Seniors. The hockey equipment was purchased by the W. A. A.

The Seniors defeated the Juniors in the first match 5-0. The fast forward line of the Seniors kept the ball in the Junior territory most of the time, and only the quick work of the Junior full backs kept their opponents from running up the score. The second game was played Thanksgiving morning in a snow storm on a slippery field which made playing difficult. The game was even during the first half which ended 2-2, but the Seniors came back in the second half and caged five more points, making the final score 7-2 in favor of the Seniors, who were thus made champions in the inter-class hockey tournament.

The Carnival Queen

As the evening of the Booster Club Carnival drew near, excitement over the election of the carnival queen became intense. The nominees were: Frances Burks, Helen Scallon, Mary Harrington and Annette Chellis. The competition was so close that the results of the election were not known until the curtain rose, and Annette Chellis, attended by Frances Burks, Helen Scallon, and Mary Harrington, ascended the throne and was crowned queen of the Booster Club Carnival of 1928.

The crowning of the queen was a fitting climax to the varied and beautiful acts of the carnival. The throne with a background of flowered scenery enhanced the pretty dresses of the queen and her attendants. The queen was charming as she ascended the throne amid the applause of a delighted audience.

The Carnival

A carnival appears to be the name of an entertainment that takes one's money and leaves him nothing, but the Booster Club Carnival was distinctive in that it was not that kind. It was a most successful carnival, both in the way of entertainment and finance. Each organization in the school was represented in an act for the vaudeville. The acting equaled the best performances at a high class theater. It was the spirit and co-operation of each organization that made the Carnival such a decided success. The special features were a Showboat act, portrayal of the classroom of 1980, The Sweetheart of Sigma Chi, the Passion Show, a scene under the sea, the athletics of 1900 and 1928, A Lady Loses Her Hoop, Under the Moon, and the evolution of dancing. The Chanticleer Club added much to the Carnival by their extra Montanomal. At the close of the program the Queen was crowned. By vote of the audience the Glee Club received the prize for the best act of the evening.

Colonial Ball

The first Colonial dance ever given at the Montana State Normal College was held the night of February 11. The recreation hall was appropriately decorated with flags. The dance was invitational, and many guests enjoyed the excellent music, which was furnished by the Baxter-Tonrey orchestra, and the novelty of a Colonial ball. The outstanding feature of the dance was the Minuet, danced by eight couples, wearing powdered wigs and charming colonial costumes. It seemed as if the hands of time had been turned back a century or more as one gazed upon the graceful dancers. Those taking part were:

Geraldine Morgan
Geraldine Smith
Elizabeth Lowney
Marie Nelson
Agnes Harrington
Veronica Harrington
Isabel Stephens
Isabella O'Connor
Ruth Linderman
Olliemay Shy
Lois Wagner
Marjorie Montgomery
Magdalena Romain
Florence Franklin
Virginia Laughlin

The Gargoyle Banquet

The Gargoyle banquet given in the fall quarter conveyed to all those present the spirit of the Gargoyles. This spirit was expressed throughout the program by the theme of the toasts. The names of plays being produced on Broadway were used as titles.

"The Silver Cord," which binds the Gargoyles into a bond of fellowship both in the present and in the past, was the introductory toast by the toastmistress, Miss Carson. Edith Tweedy welcomed the new pledges with a toast, "Behold This Dreamer." It was a very appropriate title for the president who had visions of the future success of the club. "The Road to Rome" meant a great deal to the pledges as Esther Lovell in a toast acknowledged for them their intentions of accomplishing great deeds for the Gargoyles.

From dreams to "Bare Facts" was a decided transition. Nettie Porter, a charter member of the Gargoyles, reviewed, much to the pleasure of each member, the early struggles of the dramatic society. Wherever there is gaiety there is jesting. Charles Davis enlightened those assembled as to the value of "Ink" in making a mark in life. The "Nineteenth Hole," something to strive for, a toast by Mr. Clark, was an inspiration to every member. A touch of regret entered in, though mirth seemed to captivate all. "Interference," a toast of farewell given by Norma Simons, brought the realization of the loss of some leading Gargoyles. "And So to Bed," spoken by Miss Sands, brought to a close the drama of life portrayed at this Gargoyle banquet.

Co-Ed Prom

"Side by Side" each lovely lady and sleek-haired escort entered the recreation hall. From somewhere far off beyond the crowd came the strains of music as the couples formed in line for the grand march. Then "On with the Dance"—the first one to Dean Smith, then "To our Partners." During the favor dances little black canes tied with red ribbons were handed to the "gentlemen" and tiny red parasols to the ladies. After the favor dance everyone tried, with varying degrees of success, to dance the good old-fashioned rye waltz.

Mellow lights, good music, delicious punch, gaiety, favors, novel dances—all these helped make this year's Co-ed Prom a huge success, and, when twelve o'clock came, the feelings of all were expressed in the name of the last dance —"Tired But Happy."

K. Z. N. Dance

The Kappa Zeta Nu pledge dance was held in the Guild Hall on November 23. This dance was given in honor of the twenty-four pledges of the fall quarter. The girls received French dolls as favors. Punch was served during the evening, and excellent music was furnished by the Baxter-Tonrey orchestra.

A formal dance was also given in honor of the pledges of the spring quarter. This was given in the recreation hall. These dances were among the most enjoyable of the social functions of the year.

W. A. A. Mixer

The W. A. A. started the year right by showing the new Juniors a good time at the Mixer. The aim of the party was to arouse interest in the W. A. A. as well as to have a regular good time. Emblems, numerals, and "M's" were won by the members to distinguish them from the other students. Pep songs and speeches in the dining room were used as a means of instructing the Juniors in the requirements for membership. Games were so lively, dances so peppy, and the lunch in the dining room so enjoyable that many a Junior left the party firmly resolving to become a member of the W. A. A.

The Kid Party

The Y. W. C. A. is composed of very dignified members, but all this dignity was lost when they put on "kid" clothes October 14 for the annual kid party. All sorts of games which bring back fond memories, such as farmer-in-the-dell and skip tag, were played. Many vocal cords were tried out by the crying contest. Impromptu speeches were given on "The First Time I Was Spanked." The evening was made complete by ice-cream and lollypops.

Annual Reception

According to custom the annual reception was held early in the fall quarter this year so that everyone might "get acquainted." All of the new students were presented to the faculty members. After the formal reception, the guests enjoyed a program and dancing, in the recreation hall.

Calendar 1927-1928

Fall Quarter

September

12. Registration; another big rush on.
13. Work begins and we "size up" our teachers. "Frat" breaks the ice and holds a meeting.
14. New students greatly frightened by loud shrieks from the auditorium. Discovered—Glee Club try-outs.
15. Gargoyles make plans for the year.
16. College reception; we all get acquainted.
17. Faculty nurses sore arms from too much hand-shaking.
19. The Chinook whistles into existence.
20. "Come and get your pajamas on,
Tell the Dean you won't be long!"
Rings through the halls of the dormitory as the party given by old dorm girls for the new girls assembles in the "Rec" hall.

20-21. Gargoyle try-outs.

21. "Go" at Dillmont Park; we all go.
23. W. A. A. Mixer; good time for all.
26. Last but not least the K. Z. N.'s hold first meeting.
27. Senior and Junior political campaigns; Seniors need time to meditate before election.
30. Pep rally! Rah! Rah!
Atwater Kent Vocal Contest.

October

1. Rally brings crowd; Normal loses to the "Miners" 20-0.
2. Chinook art contest begins; talent! You would be surprised!

10. Student teachers enjoy vacation; Frank Moyer is the goat.

13. More darn fun! Ballot box stuffed and everything; Bulldog chosen as the mascot.

Y. W. C. A.'s revert to past and become realistic examples at Kid Party.

18. Gargoyle make-up demonstration; no, they did not have a quarrel!

21-22. "Lilies of the Field" presented by the Moroni Olsen Players.

Ricks defeats Bulldogs in first contest of the season—45-8.

7. Invitational dance at "Rec" hall.

9. Chanticleer Club is organized by the journalism class.

11. Everyone is so busy and so mysterious; what can it mean? Oh, the Booster Club Carnival, of course!

13. Unlucky Friday for Bulldogs; 30-24 in favor of Miners.
Big surprise; pajama party at the "Rec" hall.

18. Bulldogs downed by Bobcats in an 81-23 clash.

21. Booster Club Carnival! Fun, fun, fun for everyone!

28. Co-ed Prom; where did all the "men" come from?

26-27-28. Bulldogs travel to Idaho and Utah, but jinx is in pursuit, and they come home defeated.

February

2. Southern Branch University of Idaho defeats Bulldogs 26-23; so close, but yet so far!

3. "M" Club dance; did we enjoy it? I'll say so.

4. Interesting talk entitled Seventeen Years of Thrills in South America given by Dr. G. Whitfield Ray.

10. Gargoyles present three one-act plays: Rich Man, Poor Man; The Weathervane Elopes; and The End of the Trail.
W. A. A. tournament begins with "Old" and "Middle" playing.

11. Colonial Dance. We'd like another affair.

16. Again the Bulldogs are defeated by the Mines, 40-18.
Third floor "New" wins the W. A. A. tournament; hurrah!

17. John B. Ratto, impersonator, presents a very instructive as well as pleasing program.

21. Jazz and Minuet and Pierre Patelin presented by dramatic production class.
Bulldogs defeat the Eastern Montana Normal School, 23-6; rah, rah, rah, TEAM!

23-24-25. Mining District Basketball Tournament held at College gym; vacation proclaimed for Friday afternoon.

March

    Water Carnival; the plunge room resounds with shouts of shy mermaids.

22. May Fete; new queen and bleachers stand the rush.

25. W. A. A. banquet; nuff said.

26. K. Z. N. dance; rivals the "M" Club affair.

27. Baccalaureate Sermon and Senior dinner; time is getting short.

28. Senior Play; "Alice-sit-by-the-fire"; another success to the succession.

28. Gargoyle housewarming after the play; they talk it over.

29. Gargoyle banquet; one of those filling affairs.

30. Tea for Seniors' visitors and faculty; just a friendly gathering.

    Senior sing; we join in right heartily.

    Pow Wow; big medicine; Juniors agree to carry on.

    Candle light procession; very beautiful and inspiring; Juniors are greatly impressed.

31. Commencement; students at M. S. N. C. finish another successful and happy year.

The Senior Play

"Alice-Sit-by-the-Fire," the Senior play, a three-act comedy by J. M. Barrie, was given on Monday evening, May 28, at the Normal College auditorium at 8:30. There was one performance only, because of the many activities of commencement week, although in the past it had been customary to give the Senior play on two successive nights.

The play is laid in England, while the plot centers around the two girls, Amy and Ginevra, who have just seen their first plays and are deeply impressed by the "eternal triangle" of life.

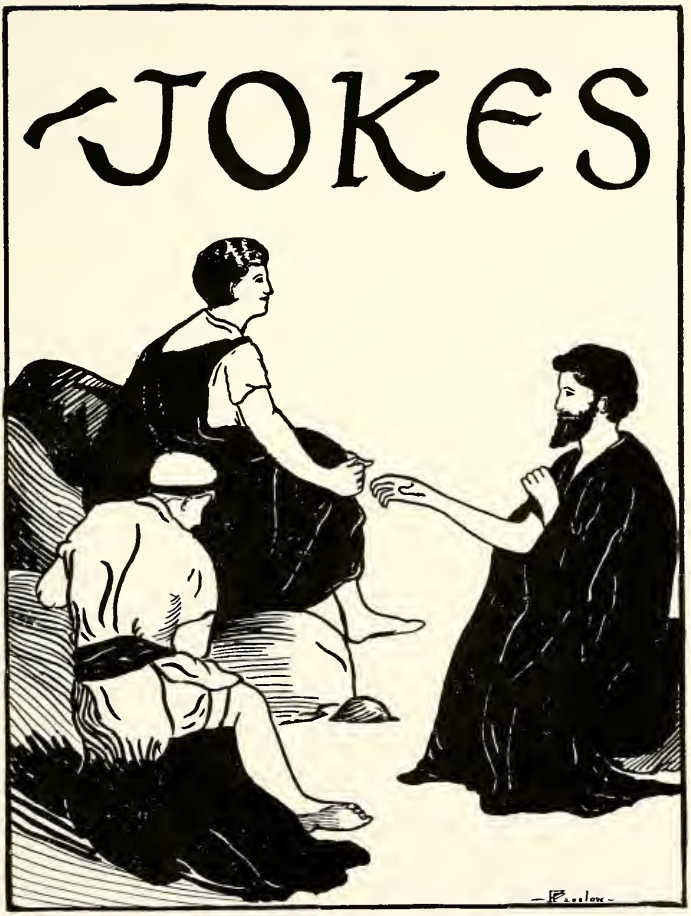
JOKES



Miss Sands (in Speech class): "You are to pretend you are angry."

Alden Mast: "Get out of here, you cur (Kerr)!"

Did Mrs. Lorensen scold Bessie for arriving home late with the milkman?

No, she scolded the milkman for arriving late with the milk.

E. Sanderson: "What a pity Joan uses so much powder and perfume since she married money. She used to be much nicer."

M. Strunk: "Yes, I knew her when she hadn't a scent."

M. Bates: "Does your friend Helen drive that car all over now?"

K. Sullivan: "You guessed it—sidewalk and all."

C. Flynn: "It doesn't pay to be crooked."

E. LaCasse: "For instance?"

C. Flynn: "Look at what happened to all the corkscrews and hairpins!"

Peg Alexander: "You must be fond of automobiles."

Bill Tash: "What makes you think so?"

Peg: "I heard you have a truck farm."

Mother: "I don't like to hear that my little boy is at the bottom of his class."

Bobby: "It isn't my fault. The fellow that's at the bottom is home sick."

D. L.: "Won't you say something sweet?"

V. L.: "Applesauce!"

Haverlandt: "Do you talk in your sleep?"

Sterry: "No, my room-mate says I'm perfectly exasperating—I only smile."

Dear Editor: What should I do when I am run down?
Anxious.

Dear Anxious: Take the license number.

Father: "How is it that you have failed in every subject at school?"

Bill Chance: "I had an absent-minded professor, and he forgot to pass me."

Mayme (telegraphing home): "In four weeks I have reduced my weight to half. How long shall I stay?"

Dad (wiring back): "Another four weeks."

Burnice Farrell: "But, darling, don't you want to marry a man who is economical?"

Rhetta Price: "Oh, I suppose so, but it's awful being engaged to one."

Mr. Moe: "Can you give me an example of wasted energy?"

Morris Cole: "Yes, sir, telling a hair-raising story to a bald-headed man."

Vivian Eastridge: "Did you hear about Ruth's teeth falling out while she was playing tennis?"

Marian Benedict: "No, did she lose the set?"

Inola Watson: "Tommy, if you had fifty cents, and you loaned your father thirty cents and your brother twenty cents, how many cents would you have?"

Tommy: "I wouldn't have any sense."

H. C.: "He can't fight!"

G. L.: "Can't! Say, when he swings and misses, the other guy gets pneumonia!"

Schoolma'am: "Emulate George Washington."

Dusky Lad (from rear of room): "No'm, I'se been heah de whole time."

A teacher was giving his class a lecture on charity.

"Willie," he said, "if I saw a boy beating a donkey, and stopped him from doing so, what virtue would I be showing?"

Willie (promptly): "Brotherly love!"

"Robert, you are incorrigible. I shall have to ask your father to come to see me."

"Better not do that, teacher; Pop's a doctor and charges three dollars a visit."

Helen McLean: "That man irritates me!"

Lena Beley: "Why?"

Helen: "He knows so much that isn't so—and he can prove all his statements."

M. Riley: "Isn't that girl thin, though?"

F. Gula: "Thin! She could take a bath in a fountain pen."

Father: "Nelle, what time did that young man leave last night? I didn't hear him say good night."

Nelle Porter: "No, father. He doesn't say it."

D. Murray: "Do you like Kipling?"

E. Mallette: "How do you dance it?"

M. Laughlin: "I'm just cleaning its hands."

Dean Smith: "Well, just wipe them. You needn't manicure them."

Rubes

L. Wagner: "I don't see Otto with that pretty country girl any more."

M. Anderson: "No, he took her to an art gallery, and said the pictures looked like the work of Reubens."

Leap Year

E. Cassidy: "Do you think a woman should ever propose?"

Cappy: "Not until she is reasonably sure a man won't."

A. Lee: "He stole a kiss from me!"

Ella Cole: "That was only petty larceny."

A. Lee: "No, it was grand!"

Pat O'Connor: "I was in a most embarrassing position this morning."

Ruth Bergquist: "How's that?"

Pat: "I had to rescue a man from drowning when he was trying to teach me how to swim."

Frankie Lee: "So you are one of a pair of twins. Are you the right one or the left one?"

Morris Cole: "That all depends on you, dear."

M. Clemow: "Dub can certainly make wise cracks!"

D. Grill: "Yes, he reads all the Fords in town."

B. Guillot: "Listen, I want 'The Life of Julius Caesar'."

K. Sullivan: "Yes, and when you get it—you'll sit in the library and study the 'Character of "Swede" Nelson'."

Dean Smith (breaking in on a big feed): "What does this mean?"

Lenore Kampf: "We're cramming for a Foods test tomorrow!"

Mary Lee Tower: "Do you play 'To the Rising Sun'?"

Helen Ballard: "I play to Bill; he isn't called that!"

Mosier: "Hollingsworth is taking up boxing in earnest now; they call him the cross-word puzzle boxer."

Lester: "How's that?"

Mosier: "He comes in the ring vertical and goes out horizontal."

Mr. Dull: "Donaldson learned to play the piano in no time."

J. Wall: "Yeah—I heard him playing it that way the other day."

Lady watching a baseball game: "Isn't the pitcher an expert? He always hits their bats, no matter where they hold them."

Dear Blanche;

Everybody's raved about your playing + of course they should, but I would like to tell what a fine girl I think she is. But lacking Miss Carson's powers of expression, I'll only let you know I'm thinking them. Don't forget our Glee Club trip (foolish thing to say!) and our little trips down to the Baptist Church,

Luck, love, & best wishes to you.

State Normal College of the University of Montana

High School graduates may well look upon teaching as a favorable field for a life career. Working conditions and salaries are improving. The demand for trained teachers has not been supplied in recent years; by no possibility can an adequate supply of teachers be trained in the near future. No one prepared to teach is without remunerative employment. Professionally trained teachers need not seek positions; they receive offers. Sure employment in a highly respected occupation with compensation in proportion to the training is the teacher's prospect.

The State Normal College of the University of Montana offers superior facilities for professional training. Its graduates are eagerly sought. If after the completion of the two year course a graduate wishes to teach, a position is waiting. If it is desired to continue in school, full credit for Normal College work is given in the University of Montana institutions or in universities not located in this state. In the usual four years of a college course a Normal diploma and a University degree may both be secured, no loss resulting from transfer of credits.

Our Selling Policy Is This:

We hold no so-called sales of any kind nor do we name comparative prices of any kind. Goods are always sold at the lowest possible prices consistent with prevailing market conditions, and when the price of some article is marked down to its replacement value, the former price is never mentioned. We aim to give the same fair, square treatment to you every day.

"There is a tide in the affairs of men which, taken at the flood, leads on to fortune."—Shakespeare.

The tide of opportunity is at the flood for young men and women now starting in the business life.

Start by forming business-like habits. Intelligent saving leads to thrift and eventually leads to prosperity.

A Savings Account should be started in a bank and into it should be put a definite portion of each month's returns. It will work for you by drawing interest.

Consult your banker in regard to savings and investment. He will be pleased to advise with you.

This bank has served the public successfully for twenty-eight years. Its services are offered to you.

"What is strategy?"

"Strategy is when you are out of ammunition but fool the enemy by continuing to fire."

Doctor: "Has the patient been delirious, nurse?"
Nurse: "Yes, doctor. When you went, he said, 'Has that idiot gone?' —and those were the last sensible words he said."

Pinky: "When you told Bill to stop kissing you, did he stop?"
Nelle: "Oh, yes—every time."

Nelson: "If I stood on my head, all the blood would flow to it, now would it not?"
Knudsen: "Yes."
Nelson: "Then how is it that when I'm standing on my feet it doesn't rush down to them?"
Knudsen: "Because your feet aren't empty."

So the absent-minded professor opened up his bed and jumped out the window.

Wife: "Do you know that you haven't been home for four nights?"

Absent-minded Professor: "Ye Gods! Where have I been going?"

Martha Sallee: "Is this dance formal, or can I wear my own clothes?"

Mrs. McBain: "Dear, would you like some waffles for supper?"

Mr. McBain: "No! They look too much like fried crossword puzzles."

It is no longer a breach of grammar when a man gazes skyward and remarks "It looks like We."

Algy: "If you are a thought-reader, why do you read my hand instead of my mind?"

Work never killed anyone, but Caesar died with ambition.

George Hollingsworth: "The height of my ambition is to box matches."

"Mary, dear, I shall never forget it. Your kindness to me through this trying illness will live in my memory forever. Why did you do it?"

"Well, David, it would hardly do to be widowed with seven children at Christmas time."

Wallace Scott was invited to a golden wedding, and was told that each guest would be expected to bring a golden present. Scott took a goldfish!

"Do you believe in the survival of the fittest?"

"Naw, I don't believe in the survival of anybody. I'm an undertaker."

Marie Nelson: "Is he dumb?"

Frances McLaughlin: "He's so dumb he thinks that the St. Louis Cardinals are appointed by the Pope."

Professor McBain: "Why is it that Finland has a larger wooded area than other countries?"

Mary Provo: "It may be covered with matches that won't strike."

Eddabeth Fisher: "I hear that a biologist is producing flowers by electricity. Is that possible?"

Elizabeth Woods: "Sure, aren't flowers often grown from bulbs?"

Elizabeth House: "So you imagine you know as much as the professor, do you? How is that?"

Martha Allen: "Well, he himself has said that it is quite impossible to teach me anything."

One: "How come the flowers?"

Two: "They're for Joe. He fell asleep during an aeronautics exam."

Helen Scallon: "Say, will you come with me to the ironing-room?"

Blanche Guillot: "Why?"

Helen Scallon: "Oh, dear, I have a pressing engagement."
